Commitment to Reconciliation

We at Gum Nut Preschool and Childcare are proud to learn and play on the land of the Wurundjeri people. We acknowledge and pay respect to their Ancestors and Elders past, present and emerging. We believe that by embracing reconciliation in early childhood education, we honour indigenous knowledge, cultures, and languages while fostering inclusive learning environments that celebrate diversity.

This commitment is essential to address inequities, promote social connectedness and empower future generations to build a more compassionate society as we are creating and celebrating a community where everyone belongs, for generations to come.

Gum Nut Preschool and Childcare is committed to promoting reconciliation and fostering an environment of respect, understanding, and appreciation for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures, histories, and perspectives.
